

From: Verne Thorstenson <rockdia@rushmore.com>
 Rocking Diamond Organics, Inc.
 3919 W. Omaha
 Rapid City, SD 57702 605 721 9954

A. Organic System Plan

Ruminant livestock shall graze during the months of the year when pasture can provide edible forage. The Organic System Plan shall have the goal of providing feed from grazing of at least greater than 30% of the daily dry matter intake on a daily basis during the growing season, of the pasture which shall but not be not less than 120 days. The Organic System Plan, provided in advance of the grazing season, shall include a monthly plan time line showing setting forth how the producer will satisfy the goal of to maximizing maximize the pasture component percentage of total feed consumed during the time the livestock are on pasture. used in the farm system. For owners of ruminant animals livestock, operations the operation's Organic System Plan shall set forth: describe 1) the amount per animal of dry matter expected from the pasture; 2) the average number of hours per day amount of time that animals are grazed on a daily basis pasture; 3) the percentage portion of the total feed requirement that will to be provided from the pasture; 4) the circumstances under which the animals will be temporarily confined; and 5) the records that are maintained to demonstrate compliance with the pasture requirements.

NOTE: A copy with deleted words will be sent by FAX to the attention of Arthur Neal

From: Verne Thorstenson <rockdia@rushmore.com>
 Rocking Diamond Organics, Inc.
 3919 W. Omaha
 Rapid City, SD 57702 605 721 9954

A. Organic System Plan

Ruminant livestock shall graze during the months of the year when pasture can provide edible forage. The Organic System Plan shall have the goal of providing feed from grazing of at least 30% of the daily dry matter intake during the growing season, which shall be not less than 120 days. The Organic System Plan, provided in advance of the grazing season, shall include a monthly plan setting forth how the producer will satisfy the goal of maximizing the percentage of total feed consumed during the time the livestock are on pasture. For owners of ruminant livestock, the Organic System Plan shall set forth: 1) the amount per animal of dry matter expected from the pasture; 2) the average number of hours per day that animals are grazed on pasture; 3) the percentage of the total feed requirement to be provided from the pasture; 4) the circumstances under which the animals will be temporarily confined; and 5) the records maintained to demonstrate compliance with the pasture requirements.